

Reinforcing the shareholder structure and management team

Dear Ms./Mr. ,

We would like to inform you of an important development for AirVision, marking a significant milestone in the growth of our company and in the relationships we maintain with our partners.

A constructive transition to ensure continuity and prepare for the future

AirVision is welcoming a new operational partner: Ludovic Battard, who joins our company as Managing Director and co-shareholder.

At the same time, Alcoba, a family-owned investment group known for its responsible and long-term approach, becomes the majority shareholder of AirVision. Their involvement reflects a commitment to stability, continuity, and sustainable development in support of our activities.

A reinforcement aligned with our history and values

- The arrival of Alcoba provides a strong European foundation and proven expertise in supporting industrial companies.
- Active within Alcoba since 2018, Ludovic Battard will leverage his experience to support the acceleration of AirVision's development and to guide our teams through this new phase.
- Dimitri Falise, founder of AirVision, remains fully committed as Sales Director and Board Member, ensuring continuity in the relationships, practices, and mindset that have shaped AirVision for more than 25 years.

What this means for you

- A strengthened company, better equipped to support your most demanding industrial projects with stability and ambition.
- Full continuity in service quality, responsiveness, and proximity — values that have always been at the heart of our identity.
- Enhanced capabilities to deliver even more efficient, reliable, and innovative tailor-made solutions.

We sincerely thank you for the trust you place in us. The entire AirVision team looks forward to continuing our collaboration and supporting the success of your future projects.

For any questions or further information, please feel free to contact us.

Kind regards,
The AirVision Team
